- Rare Academy

"I now have a much deeper understanding and feel more prepared for difficult situations that can arise"
- Health professional

Sjelden.no's goal is to effectively increase the knowledge about rare disorders amongst professionals working with people with rare disorders and their families, by providing easy access to high-quality and relevant information.

Sjelden.no consists of three fulltime staff members who collaborates closely with leading experts at the nine centers for rare disorders in Norway. Together we offer a variety of different digital learning resources such as e-learning courses, videos, podcasts and lectures.

With professionals' busy schedules, Sjelden.no is striving to maximize the learning outcome in a time efficient manner by incorporating learning methods that have been documented to give the best learning outcome.
